About the Program

- WHO SHOULD TAKE THE PROGRAM? This program is designed for both office and hospital staff in ALL health care and community organizations that interact with pregnant and delivering patients, their newborn infants (including NICU infants), and their families.
- WHY TAKE THE PROGRAM? A viral pandemic. A racial pandemic within the viral pandemic. Mental illness as the next inevitable pandemic? These are challenging times that call for all frontline health care workers to develop skills to assess and intervene around the psychosocial concerns of patients and their families, so that we can all get through this together. A key focus is recognizing risk factors for perinatal mood and anxiety disorders, and mitigating their impact through provision of trauma-informed care.
- HOW WAS THE PROGRAM DEVELOPED? The COVID-19 course was developed as a part of a grant called Rapid Response for Moms: Improving Services for Telehealth (RRMIST). It is being bundled with courses on communication and mental health issues in response to the COVID-19 crisis. RRMIST is a collaborative initiative with several partnering agencies, including the National Perinatal Association and University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, aimed at ensuring that women at highest risk are receiving quality maternal care services via telehealth during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The project is supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as part of an Award totaling $4,000,000 with 0% percentage financed with nongovernmental sources.

The contents are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official views of, nor an endorsement, by HRSA, HHS or the U.S. Government.

Program Objectives

- Define two principles of trauma-informed care.
- Identify two strategies for providing trauma-informed support to maternity patients and new parents.
- Identify three maternity care patient populations at greatest risk of experiencing anxiety and depression related to the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Define three conditions that are related to the increased mortality rate from COVID-19 in racial and ethnic minorities. Identify two no-cost support resources for pregnant and postpartum families.
- Identify two benefits and two drawbacks of using telehealth resources to deliver health care.
- Define two principles that argue against separating COVID-19 positive mothers from their babies after delivery.
- Define three mental health risks to health care providers that may result from working during the COVID-19 pandemic and ways to mitigate them.

Continuing education credits will be provided for physicians, clinic and bedside nurses, social workers, psychologists, and licensed marriage and family therapists. CEUs will be provided by Perinatal Advisory Council: Leadership, Advocacy, and Consultation.

PROGRAM CONTENT

GIVING BIRTH DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC FREE, NO CEUs Offered

For those who work with pregnant people and/or their newborns: Learn how to use trauma-informed care to support the resilience of patients and their families, as well as health care workers, during the COVID-19 pandemic. Recognize the role that disparities play in different health outcomes among people of color. Learn advantages and drawbacks of using telehealth, and strategies to expand its use.

FOR MATERNITY PROVIDERS:

COMMUNICATION SKILLS

NO CEUs Offered if taken for free; 1 CEU Offered if paid

Learn principles of trauma-informed care, use of universal precautions, how to support LGBTQ patients, obtaining informed consent, engaging in joint decision-making, delivering bad news, dealing with challenging patients.

PERINATAL MOOD AND ANXIETY DISORDERS

NO CEUs Offered if taken for free; 1 CEU Offered if paid

Identify risk factors for and differential diagnosis of PMADs (perinatal mood and anxiety disorders), particularly perinatal depression and/or anxiety and posttraumatic stress syndrome. Learn the adverse effects of maternal depression on infant and child development, and the importance of screening for and treating PMADs.

FOR NICU PROVIDERS:

COMMUNICATION SKILLS

NO CEUs Offered if taken for free; 1 CEU Offered if paid

Enhance your communication skills with NICU parents. Learn to act as a coach and mentor to parents; best techniques for delivering bad news; involving parents in collaborative decision-making; principles of trauma-informed care and talking with parents in crisis; and provision of culturally competent care.

PROVIDING EMOTIONAL SUPPORT TO PARENTS

NO CEUs Offered if taken for free; 1 CEU Offered if paid

Recognize NICU parents' increased risk for perinatal mood and anxiety disorders, especially postpartum depression and post traumatic stress disorder; risk factors for these conditions; how to screen for them; and how to provide support to parents to mitigate their risks.
